

4 November 2016

Young scientist poster award

Especially for young and upcoming scientists during the MCT symposium.

This is an excellent opportunity to present your BSc/MSc research to a broad audience.

Attendance of the MCT symposium is free for BSc/MSc students if they present a poster.

The best poster of a BSc/MSc student will be awarded a prize of €100!

We have the following requirements:

- To be eligible for winning the prize, your research needs to be conducted during your BSc or MSc study.
- The subject of your research is within the field of environmental chemistry, geochemistry, environmental toxicology, ecotoxicology or environmental technology.
- Size of the poster is maximum A0, portrait orientation.
- You are available during the lunch break to present your poster.
- You have registered for the MCT symposium, by sending an e-mail before October 31 to info@milieuchemtox.nl, providing name, title poster, name supervisor, affiliation, and phase of study (MSc or BSc)